JOIN SOCCER SUPERSTAR TIM HOWARD AT A SOCCER CLINIC EVENT & PRIVATE VIP RECEPTION BENEFITTING THE NJ CENTER FOR TOURETTE SYNDROME & ASSOCIATED DISORDERS, INC.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY - JUNE 4, 2015

The New Jersey Center for Tourette Syndrome & Associated Disorders (NJCTS) is thrilled to welcome soccer superstar Tim Howard for a two-part event. In partnership with Rutgers University and the Rutgers University Men's Soccer Team, Team Up with Tim Howard will welcome soccer leagues from around the state for an instructional and fun clinic on the Rutgers soccer field that will benefit NJCTS.

NJCTS is committed to the advocacy of children and families with Tourette syndrome and its associated disorders. The organization is dedicated to delivering high-quality services to these individuals and recognizes the importance of educating medical professionals, teachers and the general public about this disorder through programs and affiliations with public schools, health centers and universities.

Sponsors will support the work of the NJCTS Tim Howard Leadership Academy that was launched in 2014 to develop self-leadership, advocacy skills and resilience in teens with Tourette syndrome and its associated disorders. The program provides a safe environment for participants to better understand their disorder and opportunities to explore their strengths, challenges, needs and skills. Through the Academy, young people with Tourette syndrome learn to excel and inspire others—just like Tim Howard.
